What if the worst should happen? In the modern world we are increasingly reliant on external systems to support our way of life — electricity to power our homes, the internet to supply information, clean water piped directly into our homes and a culture of disposability and convenience that encourages us to simply buy what we need when we need it. If a crisis should disrupt these systems, either temporarily or long-term, would you know what to do to ensure the best chances of health and survival for your household?

In this book we will look at both short and long-term strategies for dealing with disruption to vital services:

We will look together at preparations you can make in advance to safeguard yourself before a catastrophe, as well as discussing actions to take in the moment, whether you have had time to prepare or not. Many people have survived life-or-death situations due to their own quick thinking and repurposing of the materials they had to hand.
